

Improve Workplace Health, Safety & Wellness with Loomio

Recent law changes mean businesses need to give their workers opportunities to participate, on an ongoing basis, in improving health and safety. Loomio lets you do that easily:

- 1 Download the hazard register template available at business.govt.nz/worksafe/ and initially populate it with ideas from the Government's generic "risks by industry" guide.
- 2 Start a Loomio thread to share your new hazards register, and invite everyone in your company or team to add their suggestions.
- 3 Your team can add to the thread any time they notice workplace hazards, but you can also keep the process alive by regularly (perhaps monthly or quarterly) starting a Loomio proposal to prompt engagement.

Congratulations – you've used Loomio to help build a more engaged, healthier team.

Loomio is easy to use, secure, accessible software used by groups around the world to discuss issues and make decisions together online.
